EXPERIENCE THE SAVOY SONGBOOK

FOREWORD

THE AMERICAN BAR MOVED INTO ITS EXISTING LOCATION BETWEEN 1903 AND 1904 AND HAS BEEN HOME TO A HOST OF FAMOUS BARTENDERS THROUGHOUT ITS HISTORY. FOR REASONS UNKNOWN, AND PERHAPS NOTHING BUT PURE COINCIDENCE, THE SHAPE OF THE ROOM IS THAT OF A GRAND PIANO.

Positioned in the middle of what resembles an amphitheatre arrangement sits our piano player; key to creating the unique atmosphere for which the American Bar is so renowned, an atmosphere that stays with you long after you've left. This cocktail menu pays homage to these incredible musicians and song writers, who thrill our guests every evening of the week.

The Savoy Songbook, created by the American Bar team, is a collection of 20 songs that inspire 20 cocktails.

For those who wish to sip a classic cocktail whilst enjoying the music, rest assured that the same pride and effort will be shown when making that drink. After all, where would we be without a touch of Hanky Panky.

This unique menu is available for purchase and 13 of the songs have been recorded by our resident pianist, Jon Nickoll. Please do ask your server for details.

You don't just stay at The Savoy, The Savoy stays with you.

The American Bar's atmosphere owes much to songwriters such as Burt Bacharach, who wrote and produced 'I say a Little Prayer'. This song simply had to feature on this menu. Its lyrics inspire the name of the cocktail yet this drink is really a tribute to the life of the amazing Aretha Franklin.

This song has more connections to the American Bar than we can count. In 1969 Neil Armstrong took a giant leap for mankind when the crew of Apollo 11 landed on the moon. Joe Gilmore, then head bartender of the American Bar, created The Moonwalk cocktail in their honour and sent a portion each to NASA. A thank you letter from Neil Armstrong himself can be found in our Savoy Museum. Once again this drink pays tribute to a milestone in history.

The American Bar is the oldest surviving cocktail bar in Britain. It opened in 1893 in the original riverside part of the hotel, and moved to this spot in 1904. Such a wealth of cocktail history has inspired our specialisation in vintage, fine and rare spirits. The bar has an extended vintage menu available, besides the small offering listed above.
